Following the success and immensely positive feedback of the original Nursing Approach to the Evaluation of Child Maltreatment, the need for its integration into a curriculum for continuing education was apparent. Created from the most relevant information from the original text, Nursing Approach to Child Maltreatment: A Training Curriculum features ten topical chapters meant to familiarize learners with the common forms of child maltreatment in nursing settings. The training curriculum contains activities, test questions, photographic references, and a PowerPoint teaching presentation and is accredited through Saint Louis University's School of Nursing for CNE credit(s).

Nursing Approach to Child Maltreatment: A Training Curriculum provides a solution for the urgent need for educational resources devoted to enabling nurses who work with children to understand and recognize potential cases of abuse or neglect and to train them in appropriate courses of action in what are often highly sensitive circumstances. The curriculum is not only aimed at forensic diagnosis, but is also meant to remove the uncertainty often felt when facing a situation in which a child may be at risk.

This educational curriculum, dedicated to training nurses and other medical professionals who work with children in the evaluation and interpretation of potential child maltreatment cases, is ideal for those who wish to understand the typical symptoms and presentation of abuse cases. The ten chapters of Nursing Approach to Child Maltreatment: A Training Curriculum cover a comprehensive list of common conditions encountered by nurses working within this context from physical examinations, diagnostic procedures, intimate partner violence, mental health aspects, and many more.

The information in this curriculum is designed to be studied either as a whole or on a chapter-by-chapter basis. The package price includes an initial certification through Saint Louis University; additional certificates are available for a reasonable fee of $30.00 for nurses.
